

Trip to Japan

When we arrived in Tokyo we were picked up by two tamagawa gakuen teachers and brought to the bus without any complications are long waiting times. The new environment was overwhelming and I had to take my time to realize that we had really arrived in Japan.

The following day in the centre of Tokyo showed us how beautiful this city is. It has a large amount of sky scrapers and everything is tidy and clean. There are almost no homeless and the Japanese people are always polite and like to help.

Our first day in school was really exciting our hosts picked us up and brought us to their classes where we had to introduce ourselves. My host was very nice to me and tried to help me whenever she could.

The school itself is very big and I had a hard time to find my way. Nevertheless the school is great. There are many buildings our school in Germany hasn't.

The trips the school organised for us were all very interesting and we were able to learn a lot about Japanese culture and sights.

As the time went by I got closer to my host. Especially on the weekends where we spent a day together. We did many amazing things and I am very grateful to have had such a nice host.

All in all the trip to Japan was absolutely amazing and I got a lot of new experiences. The Japanese people are all really nice and polite. I always felt welcome and respected. When it was time to leave we all wanted to stay longer because we loved the trip.
